WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.
PRIZE
DINNER

PALM BEACH | 10.30.2019

Since 1955, National Review has defined the modern conservative movement. In 1991, William F. Buckley Jr. founded National Review Institute—a non-profit, 501(c)(3), journalistic think-tank—to complement the mission of the magazine by supporting and promoting NR's best talent.

For his entire life, Bill Buckley sought to preserve and buttress the foundations of our free society. To honor his achievement and inspire others, NRI's Board of Trustees created the William F. Buckley Jr.

Prizes for Leadership in Political Thought and Leadership in Supporting Liberty.

Today, National Review Institute is enhancing and expanding its programs to better fulfill its mission—from equipping young conservative professionals and journalists to promoting the work of the nation's foremost proponents of a free society. With your help, NRI continues to spread its influence and reach.
